

You Are Invited To Hear:

Jim Embry

Kentucky-based Environmental and Slow Food Activist

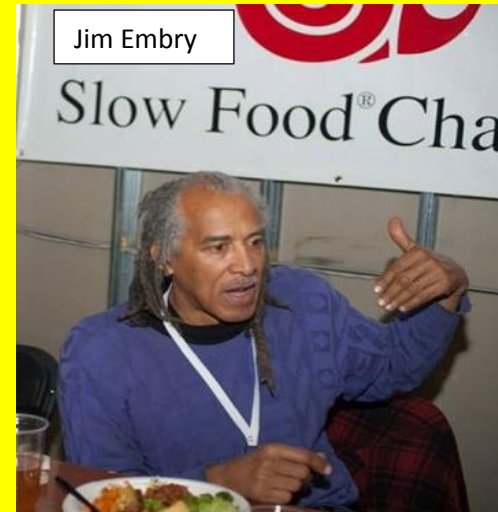

Speak in Nashville

Terra Madre:

the global movement for food that is good, clean and fair

Wednesday June 17, 6:30pm (6pm dinner)

West End United Methodist Church at 2200 West End Avenue, Nashville

The Mapp/Embry Family of Kentucky and Tennessee in Conjunction with Chef Martha Stamps (A Place at the Table)

Present

A Multi-generational Family Book Signing, Photo exhibit with Presentations

With a Delicious Dinner

Wednesday 17 June 2015 6 PM – 8 PM

Dinner begins at 6 PM ($12 for adults, $6 for children under 10)

RSVP for dinner reservations: (615) 713-7094 and/or info@questionuniverse.com

The free presentations begin around 6:45 PM

West End United Methodist Church

2200 West End Avenue (across from Vanderbilt University)

Nashville, TN 37203

For more information contact:

Irucka Embry, (615) 713-7094 and/or info@questionuniverse.com

Martha Stamps, 615-983-8850, info@marthastampscatering.com, marthastampscatering.com

The evening program includes:

Twin brothers Irucka (Nashville) and Obiora Embry (Lexington, KY); their mother, Dr. Deborah Mapp-Embry (Louisville, KY); their aunt, Ivy Barksdale (Lexington, KY); their father, Jim Embry (Richmond, KY) and their grandfather, James Mapp (Chattanooga) will read from and sign their books. Jim Embry will also exhibit photographs from his travels to Terra Madre and around Italy.